This grant purchased updated review cards for the AP World History exam, which was updated in 2019 to include history from 1200 to the present. The previous set of review cards that BHS had did not align with the new AP World History course description. Using these new review cards, games were created to make preparing for the exam more interactive and more fun. This grant also purchased Jenga game sets to be incorporated into the review game collection to appeal to students who are more kinesthetic learners. Because students enjoy learning through games, these new materials offer fresh and fun options to help the students prepare for the AP World History exam and to be as successful as possible.
